CHANGE IN COAST ARTILLERY.

State Force Reorganized-Major Gen. O'Ryan Takes Charge.

The State military authorities have decided on a new plan of organization for the Coast Artillery of New York and the Eighth and Ninth Regiments of Manhattan and the Thirteenth Regiment of Brooklyn, formerly known as "artillery districts," will hereafter be designated as the Eighth, Ninth and Thirteenth Coast Defence.

Defence.
The office of chief of Coast Artillery.
at present held by Col. Elmore F. Austin
of the Eighth Regiment, is to be abolished and Major-Gen. O'Ryan will assume it duties, with Lieut.-Col. W. Irving Taylor, former ordnance officer of the Brooklyn
regiment, as a member of his staff.
The Coast Defence Corps under the new arrangements will consist of two

The Coast Defence Corps under the new arrangements will consist of two colonels, three lieutenant-colonels, eight majors, eight captains, eight first lieutenants and eight second lieutenants for administrative duties and thirty-two captains, thirty-two first lieutenants and thirty-two second lieutenants for companies.

The changes in the organization, it is believed, will make the Coast Artillery conform more closely with the United States army and make for its efficiency.
